1992	0.55	0.69
1993	0.51 (Latest available)	0.63

(b) The Reserve Bank of India (RBI) has reported that the main reasons for not achieving the target of 1% of the aggregate advances as at the end of the previous year by the banks are as under:

(i) With the introduction of many poverty alleviation programmes by the Government, borrowers have been preferring subsidy linked programmes rather than concessionary rate or 4% per annum.

(ii) The amount of loan available under the programmes like Integrated Rural Development Programme (IRDP), the Scheme for providing self Employment to the Educated Unemployed Youth (SEEUY) (since Merged with the PMRY with effect from 1st April, 1994), Prime Minister's Rozgar Yojana (PMRY) was much more than what is available under the DRI Scheme (i.e. Rs. 6,500/- maximum).
